For registration, information about travel and accommodations, and details of the program, please visit <http://www.rit.edu/cla/ethics/Hume12/>. The conference program will include several invited keynote speakers and panel sessions on the themes of the conference. It will also include an optional trip to the nearby Canadian Rocky Mountains. Further details will be posted on the website as they become available.

The conference directors are pleased to acknowledge the generous support of the Departments of Philosophy at the University of Alberta and the University of Calgary, with additional support from the Universities' Conference Funds, the respective Faculties of Arts, and the Hume Society.

The Journal of Scottish Philosophy is international in scope, publishing innovative work by philosophers and historians of ideas on all aspects and every period of the Scottish philosophical tradition—philosophical psychology, metaphysics, philosophy of science, ethics and moral philosophy, political and social theory, from the late scholastics of the fifteenth century through the eighteenth-century Enlightenment philosophers to the Scottish Idealists of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.
