

THE WORKS OF DAVID HUME

The General Editors of the new critical edition of The Philosophical, Political and Literary Works of David Hume would welcome information on any printed or manuscript material which may have a bearing on the work of this edition. They are particularly interested in tracing any unpublished manuscripts and unpublished letters relating to Hume's writings (apart from the RSE materials catalogued by Greig and Beynon); published manuscript materials which have changed hands since the time of publication; unrecorded autograph marginalia; marked or unmarked proofs; presentation copies of published works, and other evidence identifying owners contemporary with Hume; bibliographic anomalies not recorded in the bibliographies of Jessop or Todd; the location of any copies of works (e.g. first editions of A Treatise of Human Nature) of which there are known variant states; copies of works bearing the bookplate of Hume or his nephew, David (later Baron) Hume; and unpublished information on the publication history and contemporary reception of Hume's writings.

The critical edition will be published in eight volumes by Princeton University Press, over a period of eight to ten years from 1987, under the general editorship of T.L. Beauchamp, D.F. Norton, and M.A. Stewart. There will be four volumes of text, each accompanied by a concordance volume based on the new critical text. The text volumes will be as follows, with volumes 1 and 5 scheduled to appear first:

- Vol. 1: A Treatise of Human Nature and associated pamphlets.
- Vol. 3: Essays Moral, Political and Literary, together with other literary and political pieces published in Hume's lifetime.

- Vol. 5: The two Enquiries, A Dissertation on the Passions, and the Natural History of Religion.
- Vol. 7: Dialogues concerning Natural Religion, and other posthumous and manuscript works.

The principal works will also be made available in paperback format, with introductions suited for classroom use.

Although it is not part of the current plan to publish a critical edition of Hume's History of England or an up-to-date edition of his correspondence, the General Editors wish to collect information, of the kind mentioned above, which might be relevant to a future edition of these materials. Along with the working papers of the Princeton edition, all information collected will in due course be deposited in the National Library of Scotland, and in one or more major libraries, for the general benefit of Hume scholars. All new information will be appropriately acknowledged in the edition.

Information should be sent to:

The David Hume Archive
Manuscripts Department
National Library of Scotland
George IVth Bridge
Edinburgh EH1 1EW
Scotland

HUME STUDIES is devoted to historical and systematic research on David Hume.

Manuscripts should be typewritten, double-spaced, xerox or ribbon copy, on good paper 8½ by 11 inches with wide margins. Footnotes should be assembled on separate sheets and placed at the end of the article. Receipt of manuscripts will be acknowledged, but manuscripts cannot be returned unless accompanied by an addressed envelope and postage for Canada or International Reply Coupons for those living outside Canada. Contributors should keep a copy of their manuscript.

HUME STUDIES is published twice a year in April and November. Contributors are encouraged to limit papers to 15 pages of text. Manuscripts will be accepted in English, French, German and Italian. Contributors are requested to use the Selby-Bigge editions of the Treatise and the Enquiries and the Kemp Smith edition of the Dialogues. Quotations should be verified carefully and punctuation and spelling should not be modified since there is at present no standardization. Authors of papers published in HUME STUDIES will receive gratis five copies of the issue. Additional copies may be purchased by making arrangements with the Editor.

The price per subscription per year is $10.00 for Institutions and $5.00 for Individuals (in Canadian funds). Duplicates may be obtained (if available) from the Managing Editor at the regular price of single issues ($5.00). Back issues of HUME STUDIES are available in microform from Micromedia Limited, 158 Pearl St., Toronto, Ontario, Canada M5H 1L3.

Requests for further information should be addressed to the Editor.