

Acknowledgements

The publication of a selection of papers from the joint conference of the Hume Society and the Eighteenth-Century Scottish Studies Society in the November 1995 issue of Hume Studies was supported by a subvention from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada. The Editors regret the omission, and again thank the SSHRCC, the Eighteenth-Century Scottish Studies Society, and David Raynor (Department of Philosophy, University of Ottawa), the conference coordinator, for their support and cooperation.

The Editors of Hume Studies extend appreciation to the Hume Studies host institution, the University of Utah, which provides critical support for the editorial and business office of the journal. Patricia Hanna, Dean of Humanities, and the Philosophy Department, chaired by Peter Appleby, contribute ongoing support. The Editors also extend appreciation to the University of Cincinnati and the Philosophy Department of the McMicken College of Arts and Science for support.

John W. Davis (York University) founded Hume Studies in 1975 with the support of the Philosophy Department of the University of Western Ontario. As Editor and subsequently as Book Review Editor, he contributed generously of his scholarship, time, and commitment to the success of Hume Studies, for which the community of Hume scholars is indebted and grateful.

IN MEMORIUM

The Editors note with regret the untimely death of Jean Hampton, a valued member of the Hume Society and a contributor to the April 1995 issue of Hume Studies.
