Call for Papers
32nd Annual Hume Society Conference

At the University of Toronto, Toronto, Canada

July 19–23, 2005

Conference Co-Directors:
Donald Ainslie, University of Toronto
David Owen, University of Arizona
Stanley Tweyman, York University

“Hume and the French”

The conference theme includes such sub-themes as: Hume the Essayist, Hume in Paris, Eighteenth-century Philosophy and the “Auld Alliance,” Hume and Montaigne, Hume and Descartes, Hume and Malebranche, Hume and Montesquieu, Hume and Rousseau, Hume and the Philosophes, French Hume Scholarship.

Plenary Speakers:
Daniel Garber, Princeton University
Don Garrett, New York University
Michel Malherbe, Université de Nantes
Martha C. Nussbaum, University of Chicago

Papers bearing some relation to the theme will be especially welcome; however, papers on any aspect of Hume’s life and works will be considered.

Papers should be no more than thirty minutes reading length with self-references deleted for blind reviewing; the author’s name should appear only on a front cover sheet. Papers may be submitted in French, Spanish, German, or English, but must include an English-language or French-language abstract. We anticipate having one or more French-English bilingual sessions. Authors are requested to submit papers and abstracts as e-mail attachments in MS Word or rich text format.

The Hume Society has set aside up to $2000 for the support of graduate students reading papers at the annual Hume Society meeting, to be given at the discretion of the conference co-directors to those whose papers have been accepted through the normal vetting process.

Submissions must be sent to <secretary@humesociety.org> or submitted on the Conference Paper Submission Page (conference website currently under construction) by November 1, 2004.

For updated information, visit <<http://www.humesociety.org/>>.

31st Annual Hume Society Conference

To be held in Tokyo, Japan, hosted by Keio University.

August 2 – 7, 2004

Conference Directors:

Masaki Ichinose, Tokyo University

Tatsuya Sakamoto, Keio University

Francis W. Daurer, University of California, Santa Barbara

Saul Traiger, Occidental College

“Industry, Knowledge, and Humanity”

Thus industry, knowledge, and humanity, are linked together by an indissoluble chain, and are found, from experience as well as reason, to be peculiar to the more polished, and, what are commonly denominated, the more luxurious ages. (Hume, “Of Refinement in the Arts”)

Lodging in Tokyo

The Shinagawa Prince Hotel is a huge international hotel with a variety of business and leisure facilities. The hotel is the best accommodation for a conference at Keio University, just ten minutes by train which departs every two minutes. Special shuttle-bus service for the conference participants is negotiable. The current room rate per person per night is from 9,800 yen ($82.00 U.S.) for single occupancy, and from 7250 yen ($60.00 U.S.) for double occupancy. A room-sharing option will be included in the registration form. A special conference rate is to be negotiated with the hotel. For details, see the hotel’s website, <http://www2.princehotels.co.jp/app_room/epiq0010.asp?hotel=007>.

For information on the conference as it develops, visit the conference’s website at:

<http://humesociety.org/tokyo/index.html>

The conference directors are pleased to acknowledge the generous support of the Japanese Society for British Philosophy and the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science.
