

Call for Papers

34th International Hume Conference

Boston University

August 7–12, 2007

Conference Organizers

Prof. Manfred Kuehn (Boston University)

Prof. Aaron Garrett (Boston University)

Prof. Kate Abramson (Indiana University)

The Hume Society is pleased to announce its thirty-fourth annual conference, to be held August 7–12, 2007, in Boston, Massachusetts, hosted by Boston University.

The Four Dissertations (published 1757)

Hume on Economics and Politics

The Union of 1707

Invited Speakers

Professor Henry Allison (University of California, Davis)

Professor Lorne Falkenstein (University of Western Ontario)

Professor Russell Hardin (New York University)

Professor Margaret Schabas (University of British Columbia)

For further information on accommodations, directions, etc., see the conference website at:

<http://people.bu.edu/kuehnm/hume%20page.HTML>.

McGill

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

2008–9

McGILL DAVID HUME COLLECTION RESEARCH GRANT

The Rare Books and Special Collections Division of the McGill University Library has established the McGill David Hume Collection Research Grant. The David Hume Collection held at McGill is the most important collection of Hume materials outside Edinburgh. In addition to fifty manuscript letters by Hume, the collection includes a nearly complete set of the lifetime editions of Hume's works and translations of them. The collection also includes many later eighteenth-century editions of these works, a wide range of the known eighteenth-century commentaries on them, and significant holdings of nineteenth- and twentieth-century editions and commentaries, including many nineteenth- and twentieth-century theses devoted to Hume. The McGill Library also supports Hume scholarship by systematic acquisition of relevant recent publications, particularly those in English, French, German, and Italian.

The McGill David Hume Collection Research Grant, with a value of $5000 (Cdn.), is open to established scholars carrying out research on any aspect of the work of David Hume, philosopher, essayist, and historian. The Grant will provide financial support to scholars who can spend a minimum of three months utilizing the David Hume Collection and other relevant resources of the Rare Books Division and the McGill libraries. Grantees will be provided an office with a computer and internet access within the Rare Books Division, and ample opportunity to discuss their work with members of the lively academic community encompassing McGill and the three other universities located in Montreal. The deadline for applications for the 2008–9 Grant is December 31, 2007. For further information please visit the Hume Collection website at:

<http://digital.library.mcgill.ca/hume/>

Published by Edinburgh University Press

22 George Square, Edinburgh EH8 9LE, UK
Tel +44 (0) 131 650 6207 Fax +44 (0) 131 662 0053 E: journals@eup.ed.ac.uk www.eup.ed.ac.uk

Journal of Scottish Philosophy

incorporating Reid Studies

Two issues per year ISSN 1479-6651

The Journal of Scottish Philosophy is published by Edinburgh University Press on behalf of the Scots Philosophical Club. It publishes innovative work by philosophers and historians of ideas on all aspects and every period of the Scottish philosophical tradition – philosophical psychology, metaphysics, philosophy of science, ethics and moral philosophy, political and social theory, from the late scholastics of the 15th century through the 18th century Enlightenment philosophers to the Scottish Idealists of the late 19th and early 20th centuries. It has a special interest in the writings of Thomas Reid, and in the influence and impact of Scottish philosophy on the foundations of theology and education in North America.

The Journal is international in scope and regularly includes contributions from philosophers and scholars in Britain, continental Europe, Canada, the United States, Japan and South America. In addition to the substantial articles, the Reviews Section provides critical notices of both important new monographs and new editions of the works of major Scottish philosophers.

Subscription to the journal at a special rate is automatically included in membership of the international Reid Society. See www.lclark.edu/~reidsoc/ for more information on joining the Society.

SAMPLE CONTENTS (Volume 4 Number 1, Spring 2006)

George Campbell's Critique of Hume on Testimony – A E Pitson
Hutcheson's 'sentimentalist deontology'? – Jeff Edwards
The Philosophy of Art in Reid's Inquiry and its place in 18th Century Scottish Aesthetics – Michael DeMoor
From Singular Event to [Moral] Science – Jim Sauer
The Status of Animals in Scottish Enlightenment Philosophy – Nathaniel Wolloch

---

Also Available NEW Adam Smith, Radical and Egalitarian An Interpretation for the 21st Century

Iain McLean

Foreword by

Rt Hon Gordon Brown MP

This book aims to show that Adam Smith was not the promoter of ruthless laissez-faire capitalism that is still frequently depicted. The book also draws out the lessons that Adam Smith can teach policy makers in the 21st Century.

June 2006 224pp Hb 0 7486 2352 3 £40.00
Pb 0 7486 2353 1 £14.99

---

Find out more and buy online at www.eup.ed.ac.uk